Carolina Veterans Resource Center Opens

The Carolina Veterans Resource Center (CRVC) opened recently to serve and support the Carolina student veteran and military-affiliated students. The CRVC will serve as a central location for military-affiliated people to find resources and a community to support and aid them during their journey as Tar Heels. This location contains study space, a lounge, conference/meeting space, and a lactation room. Campus and community partners will be present in this space to bring enhanced services to the military-affiliated student population.
